

You can't imagine how many helicopters are flying over Kauai every day. So many companies, that safety has become an issue: more deaths are evident. Similar to the situation in the Grand Canyon, flights are noisy and people are angry.
And noise reduction technology is there.